THEORY OF THE LODE.

What Experts Think of the Formation at Bodie.

Prospects of Different Mines.

[By a Special Correspondent.]

The mines in this vicinity are in many respects most remarkable. They not only contain streaks of unheard of richness, but the veins run in the most curious shapes, and some of the richest rock has the commonest look. The most experienced miners agree with me that there is a great deal of rock found in Bodie which, without knowing that it would assay into the thousands, any man would throw out without a moment's hesitation. Bodie bluff is full of veins or streaks, running in a general north and south course. The upper part of these veins is very much disturbed and has puzzled the experts exceedingly. Every theory can be substantiated to a hair, by evidence which is perfectly unanswerable to him that gets it up. It is safe, however, to say, that

BELOW FOUR HUNDRED FEET the commotion had little or no force, and every foot explored below that level will add largely to the real knowledge we have of this lode or deposit, whichever it may be. The deposit upon which Bodie has gotten fat, wobbles around in the most irresponsible manner, and leads to the belief that it was there at the time of the disturbance which ground up the rock and twisted the whole hill out of shape. This layer of gold bearing quartz, which has never reached a thickness of three feet, might be compared to a vast blanket, stretching from one side to the other, in loose folds, rising here and sinking there, without method or regularity. It seems to have a divide or summit of its own over which it has disappeared to the west, and is now turning rapidly down on the east side. How far north and south it runs is not known. The south drift has it two and a half feet wide and as rich as ever, and the north winze is in it. The old works and the new in the Bodie mine were supposed to be entirely disconnected, but it is now known that they are both part of this same blanket. The east drift, on the 306 foot level, cuts through it at the place of all others where it was the most weak, and it was supposed that it had run out. After they found it again on the level below, they came back and began the exploration of a streak of BARREN WHITE QUARTZ which they had crossed about 60 feet from the shaft, and soon found that it was the missing link. The rock is so soft on this streak, there is so little clay, the wall rocks are so filled up with gold and it lies so flat that some people think it is a gravel deposit which will be exhausted in a short time like the famous drift mines on the Iowa Hill divide in Placer county, and not a vein at all. But there seems to be good reason for discarding this belief in the character of the rock in the face of the north winze and that in the south drift, which carry streaks very rich in silver in several different forms and in good strong quartz. The dip in the north and south winzes and in the upraise is much more regular than it was higher up, and the character of ore of a more promising character for permanency. It carries crystallized quartz, and to use a mining phrase, "crystals show strength." The Bodie has other ledges of quartz and is going right to the line both south and east and will doubtless find more. The Jupiter, which lies south and east of Bodie, has 3 ledges, and the Dudley, further south, has several, whether the same ones or not can hardly be determined. Some of its ore is very rich, and is being sacked for the mill. They all expect to get the blanket into their beds, but are satisfied to dig for it, as the dip would carry it considerably lower than it is found in the Bodie. The Standard is so well known that I need not mention its several valuable bonanzas.

A VERY FREQUENT ILLUSTRATION used by experts to explain the lay of the ground in this hill is to represent a cross section of it by holding up the hand and spreading out the fingers and thumb, each one to stand for one of the ledges crossed. The little finger would be the east ledge in the Jupiter, which dips rather strongly to the west. The next one the middle streak, which straightens up, and so on through several degrees of perpendicularity to a strong dip to the east in the rich blanket in the Bodie. The belief of those who argue on this theory, is that all these stringers continue their dip and come together within a few hundred feet and fill in one fissure of greater or less width. There are good reasons to believe that the lode, if there is one, is not small, as some of the veins are quite large, and if they were all in one it would be a very respectable lode, even if there are none yet to be cut through, and if the fissure does not widen out below. This supposition gives fine prospects to the mines on the east side of Bodie bluff, such as the Toga, Summit, Jupiter, Syndicate, Dudley, and perhaps Mono, Champion, McClintock, Pacific, Bechtel and others, besides those now well developed, which are the Standard, Bodie and Bulwer. The ground on the east foot of the bluffs is full of gold, and is being washed by men who are making six dollars a day. On the west side small deposits have been found, but not to compare with the others.

THE SOUTH END

Of the district is looking very well. The Maryland, owned by E. J. Baldwin, is said to have a good ledge, and rock is being sorted for the mill. Noonday has a good big ledge, but the ore is of a low grade. The University and mines north and south of it are quite a ways west and expect to go very deep before getting into the ore. If the vein dips, as it is now thought by most, to the east, there is not any likelihood of their ever getting into ore. It would be like going above the fissure of the Comstock and boring into the rock which runs in and becomes the footwall. Still, theories are very often deceptive, and no one knows enough yet to say "go here" or "go there" for the vein. There is a great deal of good machinery on the ground and more coming. The Standard mill has 20 stamps and is worked to great advantage. A new system of moving ore is in operation there which is very cheap. The mill is set at the foot of Bodie bluff, just above the town, on the east side. An endless wire rope runs between the mill and the ore house on top of the hill. It is carried around a large horizontal wheel at the top, and around a drum at the mill, which is moved by the steam engine at about a mile and a half an hour gait. It is kept in position between the two, which are about a quarter of a mile apart, by grooved wheels set on trestles. From this rope are hung at regular intervals fifty iron buckets, each of which carries 120 pounds of ore. It takes two men to fill them at the top, and the bottom falls down, the ore tumbles into the bin and the bottom is shut and latched again automatically. This contrivance is

A GREAT SUCCESS.

The ore is moved with the merest trifle of expense and at a rate which would keep three mills running. It is simple, never gets out of order and is very satisfactory all round. It is said that it does not cost over a bit a ton to run down the rock and to mine and deliver at the mill does not cost over two dollars. Mining and milling costs about $8 per ton. There are several mines troubled with water, and pumps are on the way to clear them. After they arrive there will be employment for more men. The Real Del Monte, at Aurora, is also flooded and is waiting for a larger pump. The old pump took out 400 gallons per minute. A new 17 inch pump is on the way which will take out 1200 gallons per minute. I want a column to-morrow for the labor question here, which I will try to make both interesting and valuable.

FULTON & EDWARDS.
SECRETARY SHERMAN AND RESUMPTION.

The Sacramento Bee says that "Wall street brokers, with Sherman to follow out their plans, placed this country in a precarious position, thrusting the people under the feet and leaving them at the mercy of the gold gamblers. He, Sherman, was the agent whose acts led the nation into danger, and it was not his hand that brought her out. Had his suicidal policy been kept up to this day, the result would not have been the same as it now is."

It gives full credit to the "currency reform," which is a polite name for the mondescript crowd of greenback inflationists, rebel repudiators and double standard latitudes, who are all yelling and pulling different ways at the same time, for the return of good times and honest money, which they brought about by forcing congress to modify its ruinous course and put a check upon the reckless Sherman. All this has been answered so often that it is recognized now as trash. Secretary Sherman has only succeeded in establishing specie payments upon a sound basis by proving stronger with the people than the wild theorists, who wanted to drown the country with a worthless currency and rob the people by allowing free coinage and legal tender to a depreciated silver dollar. He has not brought this country to specie payment; nor specie payment to the country, but by a singular happy accident he inaugurated by legislation what he afterward completed as executive. His bill for resumption out of a great many others, was taken up and became the law; not, perhaps, because it was any better than some others, but because it happened to come just at the right time and was to the point. All through the years of agitation, discussion and consummation, his course has been consistent and honest, and his counsels valuable. As secretary of the treasury he has simply executed the laws with firmness, decision and judgment. There is enough discretionary power in the hands of the secretary, however, to entitle him to great credit for while good laws are indispensable, a good officer is equally so in order to achieve favorable results. The truth of the matter is that Sherman took the treasury portfolio at a time when commerce and manufactures were languishing from the natural reaction, consequent upon over expansion, caused by an inflated, debased and irredeemable currency; at a time, as in all times of financial depression, when crack-brained theorists debauched everything that was done and saw sudden and fabulous prosperity in wild legislation, and by putting into practice the simple policy of paying honest debts in honest money, brought the country out of the financial chaos that threatened to engulf it. Congress nor the "currency reformers" have not checked him, nor caused him to swerve from the line of policy first adopted. The greenbackers and silver maniacs howled at him continually, and prophesied ruin if his course was adhered to, but he kept the even tenor of his way, heeding them not, and when the financial problem is solved and resumption an accomplished fact, they say the country owes it all to them, and want to put Sherman down where public opinion puts them.

WHAT IS A GOOD BUY?
In answer to many inquiries in regard to stock in mines in the Bodie district, we can only say, as every one knows, that outside the question of real value in the mines, there are a great many causes operating in the market, and the man who buys in a mine because it is good, or sells it because it is poor, is very likely to get nipped. The Bodie mines are now for sale at the prices, and they are pushed with a great deal of energy and skill, both here and in New York, and it is said that enormous amounts are being worked off. It is a belief everywhere that all the stocks will go much higher, and that there are other mines as good as the Bodie that now are hardly noticed. We do not pretend to advise, but we give the news as close to the truth as we can learn it. If people at this distance will persist in buying stock, they ought to remember that they are far from the market as well as the mine, and the situation might change entirely, and prices go to pieces before any one here, except a very few, would know anything that was happening. In such cases common prudence would dictate that a man should buy very sparingly, and never on a margin. There is liable to be some lofty tumbling any time in such stocks as those. They are certainly selling very low compared to the Comstocks, and the district is fast growing in favor.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

As we go to press the sad news reaches us of the death of Mrs. Loring Pickering, who departed this life at 4 o'clock this (Wednesday) afternoon. A noble lady, an earnest Christian woman has been "called home." "None knew her but to love her—none named her but to praise." Besides those bound to her by the ties of relationship, hundreds will mourn her departure from earth, and unite in tendering their heartfelt sympathy to him who has lost the loving companion who for many years has stood by his side. Life's mission well accomplished, she has but "gone on" to receive the faithful reward to those who remain faithful to the end.—S. F. Weekly Call.

The fraternity on the Pacific coast have a sincere, though perhaps silent sympathy for Mr. Pickering in his great loss.

Congress of New York, and Lamar of Mississippi, disgraced themselves and the senate of the United States by a personal quarrel last Wednesday night. Some of the insulting words which passed between them are published in another column. A personal altercation between members of the highest deliberative body in the nation, occurring upon the floor of the senate chamber, not only lowers and brings into contempt those who engage in it, but lessens the respect of the people for the government itself. Both men appear to be blamable, and their conduct deserves severe censure.

The Nevada Transcript continually copies from the GAZETTE without credit, and not satisfied with stealing the items, credits them invariably to the Journal. If it is not stopped we will publish something that the Transcript will neither be disposed to steal nor credit to any other paper.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

The usual summer revolution has broken out in Mexico.

Most of the Fall River spinners have given employers notice of intention to strike.

A German named John B. Eckner committed suicide at his residence, 501 Broadway street, San Francisco, yesterday morning, by shooting himself through the head with a revolver.

A London dispatch says the betting is now in favor of Weston. His wonderful running is a surprise to every one. He has made better time up to noon on the fourth day than anything accomplished heretofore.

In the Police Court at San Francisco yesterday, W. W. Connolly was examined on a charge of causing the death of Fred Rush, by throwing him down on the sidewalk and fracturing his skull. He was held for trial in the sum of $6,000.

Owing to the last appropriation of congress for judicial purposes being exhausted, the petty jury in the United States court at Chicago was discharged yesterday morning. An important litigation will be thus delayed several months.

Dispatches have been sent to all the absent Democratic senators, urging their immediate return to Washington. It is expected that the request will be complied with, and that to-day a quorum will be in the city, which will enable congress to proceed with its business.

The house yesterday passed the trade dollar bill, with two amendments, namely: That the coins which have been clipped or restamped in China shall be excluded from its provisions, and that the trade dollars so coined, under the act, shall not be counted as a part of the coinage of silver authorized by the act of February 28, 1876, providing for the coinage of standard dollars. The bill was passed without a division.

Interview with the Chicago organization which have arms and ammunition, indicates that they intend as a rule to comply with the state law and disband, if they are unable to secure a license to retain their arms. The Lehr and Wey Verein organization of workmen, 900 strong, from which some trouble was anticipated, intend to appear with their arms soon after July 1st, when the new law takes effect, and allow themselves to be arrested, that a test case may be arranged, and the constitutionality of the new law be decided at once. The possibility for trouble on the Fourth of July is therefore very small.

In the senate last night, during discussion on Army bill, Conkling charged the opposite side with trickery in trying to shut off debate upon the bill. He also charged it with bad faith in regard to the time allowed for debate. Lamar, of Mississippi, took offense, and said, in reference to the charge of bad faith: "I pronounce his statement a falsehood, which I repel with the unmitigated contempt that I feel for the author of it." Conkling replied: "that nothing except the fact that this is the senate, would prevent my denouncing him as a blackguard, a coward, and a liar. Conkling does not believe in duelling and will not challenge Lamar."

Talk is Cheap.

And so are fine clothing, boots, shoes and gentlemen's and boys' furnishings goods, if you go to the right place to get them. This is a mighty important point, for some people who assert that they sell cheap do nothing of the kind. We do not boast when we say that we defy competition in prices in anything in our line. Besides this we have only one price. We have no preferred customers. Everybody is treated alike at our establishment. Our stock is the largest and most complete ever offered in any part of this state. Everything we have is new. No old, musty, and out-of-date goods can be found on our shelves. We receive daily by rail and express the latest and best goods, which are obtained at first hand and sold at prices below those now prevailing in New York and Chicago. Let the people come and judge of our prices, and examine our stock before going into those humbugging, Cheap John shops, in which they drain into the ear of the customer that they sell at cost and even below cost. Anybody with common sense must know that they lie. No store-keeper sells goods for the fun of the thing, we make a profession of selling as every honest merchant does, and don't print foolish falsehoods in the vain hope of deceiving the public. We particularly call attention to our full stock of fancy underwear, such as is kept nowhere else in Reno. This class of goods forms one of our specialties. Remember the place, the White House, No. 19 Commercial Row.

BY VIRTUE OF AN ORDER OF SALE issued out of the District Court of the Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, held in and for the County of Washoe, do hereby give notice that the property of the said defendant, William Hoffman and against Antonio Rager and Sarah Rager, for the sum of Seven Hundred and Twenty-five dollars ($725.00) with interest on Twelve Hundred dollars ($1,200.00) from May 9th, 1879, until paid, at the rate of two (2) per cent. per month, and costs now amounting to One Hundred and Ninety-One Dollars ($191.00), and attorney's fees now amounting to Two Hundred and Forty-nine Dollars ($249.00), all in gold coin of the United States, as in said judgment and decree specified, I hereby give notice that I will sell, public auction, to the highest and best bidder for cash in hand, in front of the Court House at Reno, Washoe County, Nevada, on Saturday, the Twelfth Day of July, A. D. 1879, between the hours of nine o'clock A. M. and five o'clock P. M. of that day, to wit: at one o'clock P. M., the following described real estate, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said judgment, accruing costs, and expenses of this sale, to-wit: That parcel of land situated in the Township of North Nineteen (19), North Range Nineteen (19) East, Mount Diablo meridian, lying west of the west line of the section of the Sierra street, commencing on the north side of Fifth street (or the second street north from Plaza street), and running from thence along the west line of the section of the Sierra street to the place of beginning, excepting therefrom certain lands and the ditch styled English Ditch located, as in the mortgage mentioned and excepted, and the following described real estate, to-wit: all that portion of the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of Section Eleven (11) embraced within the following boundaries, to-wit: commencing at the intersection of the north line of Sixth (6) street and the line of Sierra street, and running from thence westerly along the north line of Sixth (6) street to the quarter section line to the north line of Section (11) where the quarter section line intersects with the west line of Sierra street; thence southerly along the said west line of Sierra street to the place of beginning, said land being situated in the addition to the town of Reno, styled Dunn's North Addition, and being situated in the County of Washoe and State of Nevada.

W. A. WALKER,
Sheriff Washoe County.
Dated: Sheriff's Office, Reno, Nevada, June 19th, 1879.

Summons.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe. The State of Nevada sends to Arden Jones greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you by defendant by Jemima Jones as plaintiff in the District Court of the Second Judicial District, and for the County of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons, (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said district, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to obtain a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between plaintiff and defendant. Plaintiff alleges: That plaintiff and defendant intermarried at Mono county, California, on or about July 29th, A. D. 1873, and ever since have been and now are husband and wife; that on or about September 9th, A. D. 1873, you, the defendant, willfully deserted and abandoned plaintiff, and ever since have so continued and do now so continue to desert, abandon and live apart from the plaintiff against her will, wish or consent; that for more than a year next preceding the commencement of this action you, the defendant, have failed and neglected and now do fail and neglect to provide for the plaintiff the common necessities of life, which neglect is and was not the result of poverty on your part, which you could not have avoided, but the result of your willful desertion and abandonment; that there are no children living of the issue of said marriage and no common property. Plaintiff prays to be restored to her maiden name and for costs, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county. Answers are further notified, that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof I, P. B. COMSTOCK, Clerk of said Court, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court this sixth day of December, A. D. 1878.

P. B. COMSTOCK,
Clerk of the District Court of the Second Judicial District, Nevada, in and for Washoe County.
By S. A. MANN, Deputy. April 23-79
